WAS A MEMBER OF JAMES GANG

Such Was the Declaration of Relative of Man Who Died Here

WAS BURIED YESTERDAY

John Tillman, Harness Maker
Who Expired at Grand Hotel, a Queer Character

The remains of John Tillman, the aged harness maker, who expired in his chair at the Grand hotel last Tuesday night, were laid to rest in East Hill cemetery yesterday morning. The body had remained at the morgue of Fred A. Caldwell, in hopes that some of his wealthy relations would come and claim the remains and take them to his old home for burial.

Tillman had been a resident of this city for over a year, being in the employ of J. W. Tompkins. With his employer and shop mates, he was a favorite, being of a genial disposition and ever willing to do a favor for those with whom he was associated. At all times he has carefully guarded against telling anything about his past, and only once did he drop a word of where any of his relatives were located.

Shortly after his death, his friends telegraphed to the party whom they had heard him mention, a cousin at Greenville, Ohio, and upon receipt of the word, the cousin came to this city.

His cousin informed his friends here that none of the family had heard of the unfortunate man for over twenty years. He said that he had two wealthy brothers, who were farmers near Clinton, Mo. A telegram was sent to the brothers apprising them of his death, but they did not reply. A second message was sent asking what disposition they wanted to make of the remains, but they refused to receive the second message.

While here, it is said that the man's cousin made the statement that deceased was a member of the notorious Jesse James gang, and after he joined the desperadoes the family never heard of him again. He said that one of them had taken the Police Gazette (a periodical, dealing with the arrest and doings of criminals throughout the country) for over two years in hopes of learning something of the man's whereabouts. Whether this word was given out by the family as an excuse for not taking charge of the remains and giving the deceased a proper burial is not known, but there was a John Tillman with the James gang, who figured very prominently in all the escapades of those fearless bank and train robbers.

Tillman was a widely traveled man, and hardly a city of any importance in this country was ever mentioned, but what he knew something about it and some of the people living there.

AGED FARMER KILLED ON CONNERSVILLE PIKE

Connorsville Examiner: John Merrill, age sixty years, farm hand employed by Asa Breen, a mile west of this city on the Rushville pike was killed a little before noon Saturday, when, in some manner, not definitely known, he was caught under a heavy steel roller, such as is used by farmers in rolling ground.

HERE'S WHERE THE FUN COMES IN.

The young unmarried ladies of Greensburg have recently revived the old tradition that if one of their lady friends is to be married and if one of them should make a pair of garters and have the bride wear one as she stands before the marriage altar and the maker wear the other one, that to her will come a lucky proposal of marriage within a year. They do not say whether they apply to real old maids or recent yedding in that they had on her legs nine garters which represented were nine single and sweet young ladies living in Greensburg who were "just dying" to be married.

Mrs. Jet Parker spent the day in Bluffton.

NEW PASTOR MADE GOOD IMPRESSION

Rev. W. H. Clark Entered Upon
His Pastorate at United Presbyterian Church

The initial sermons of Rev. W. H. Clark, the new pastor of the United Presbyterian church, were well received by the congregation and a large number of other attendants at the services yesterday. Rev. Clark is an able man in the pulpit, and while he is by no means a stranger to the local congregation, he made a number of friends and admirers yesterday. The new pastor came here from Calcutta, Ohio.

TAX PAYERS ARE SLOW THIS YEAR

But Three Weeks Remain to Pay Fall Installment
Without Penalty

FORCE HAS AN EASY TIME

One Man Could Easily Have Handled all the Business
To Date

The tax payers of Rush are from some cause rather more slow than usual about paying their fall installment of taxes, although quite a number paid up last Saturday. The last day for paying taxes is Monday, November 4th, just three weeks from today.

In this short time there is a large amount of money to be collected in by the treasurer and properly credited on the books. Up to the present time one clerk could easily look after all the business and then have plenty of time to read the papers. It is expected, however, that the taxes will begin to come in by next week more rapidly. If everyone waited until the last day to pay, the office full of clerks could not wait upon them and those who can should get in as early as possible and pay their taxes.

The books will positively close on November 4th and no taxes can be paid after the books are closed without the penalty attached, so it stands everyone in hand to get in as early as possible.

WELL VERSED ON HANDLES OF MEN

Fred Capp, Retiring Actuary,
Has a Very Rare Art
Mastered

In resigning his position as actuary of the Rush County Farmers Insurance Association Saturday, Fred A. Capp said that in the fifteen years that he held the position he has been paid $6535 in salary and commissions. He made this statement as many had repeatedly asked what the position paid. Mr. Capp thanked the association for the position which he filled so well all these years, and quit with good feeling and best wishes from all interested. Few men in the State can call as many people in one county by their Christian names as Mr. Capp, and in the election Saturday he made an excellent teller for he was acquainted with the five hundred voters in the convention.

Hiner Put "Stamp" of Dis- approval on Candidacy.

John Hiner says that under no consideration would he be a candidate for sheriff. He declares he is "very much pleased, thank you," with his present occupation in life. He is grateful he is to his fellow mail carrier who launched the boom, but he says that they probably want one of their own in office so they would stand good if ever arrested for stealing chickens, running down pumpkins, or violating the speed ordinance with old Dobbs.

CUTTING AFFRAY THIS AFTERNOON

Three Colored Men Engaged in Fight in West Part of This City

WOUNDED MAN IN HIDING

Said to Have Received a Knife
Wound Which May Prove Fatal

A free-for-all fight occurred this afternoon on West Second street, near the Big Four tracks, in which the participants were two colored men, employed here on the sewers, and a local colored man, whose name was not learned, but who is said to have given the police much trouble lately.

A fistie encounter followed a lively argument and after one of the men was knocked down he arose and came at the other two with a weapon—either a razor or a sharp knife—and began to cut his way out of the fracas. Policeman Pea was summoned, but when the men engaged in the fight caught a glimpse of him, they took to the heel and a merry chase followed.

All three escaped, but the officer says arrests will follow, as he knows two of the parties.

Lee Litteral, the dairyman, saw one of the men, west of this city, and he says he was bleeding profusely from a wound that extended from the front of his abdomen half way around his body. A physician was sent in search of the fellow, who is probably in hiding in the woods west of here.

UNCLE SAM HAS A BANK IN THIS CITY

Strange Man Made a Strange
Request at the Postoffice
—Made a Deposit

An elderly gentleman applied at the money order window at the post-office Saturday evening for a money order and asked to have it made payable to himself. Such a request is unprecedented at the local office, and they are at a loss to know why the fellow should make such an odd request. It is thought that he neither was of the type of men who have no faith in banking institutions or that he did not care to open a bank account for a short time, and would rather pay the fifteen cents, which the order cost, to deposit his money with Uncle Sam for a few days.

OWEN L. CARR'S LARGE RANCH IN THE SOUTHWEST

Owen L. Carr was expected home today from a three weeks' stay on his ranch in Texas. Mr. Carr has 15,360 acres leased in the Lone Star State, where he is grazing 1500 head of cattle. He has shipped several hundred head to this city, and will pasture them here for a short time. Guy Gordon was with Mr. Carr on his Texas trip. Charles A. Frazer has been managing the Carr live-stock during the latter's absence.

AN AFFINITY OF HATS.

There was an exemplification of the affinity of hats last night at Betker's store. It was more than a twin soul affinity—it was triplets. The hat bands were throbbing for each other, and deep down in the crowns they "felt" a longing for a change. Three men had purchased new hats on the previous Saturday—Dora Betker, Denny Ryan and Jesse Guire, and they all looked out of gear with their new headgear. Have you ever noticed that some hats look like fellows you know? Well, that was what suggested a try-on of each others' bonnets. The change was of mutual benefit with the three men, as far as looks were concerned, and the hats were happy. The swap was made, Betker's taking the hat, Ryan taking Guire's, and Guire taking Betker's. It was a happy ending to a hat problem.

OUR NEW PAPER

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN WILL SOON BE ISSUED AS AN EIGHT
PAGE DAILY.

In all probability, beginning with next Monday's issue, the Daily Republican will be an eight page newspaper in the future. Our subscription price will remain the same and many high class news features and departments will be added. A more extended notice of the new Daily Republican will be given this week. With what is now conceded to be the newest daily in any city the size of Rushville, the Daily Republican will "go it one better," and issue a publication of which the entire community can well feel proud. Watch for the new paper—and incidentally tell your neighbors about it, if you have one who is not already taking the paper. But you will find they are "few and far between."

L. E. Wallace, until recently an employee of the old Jacksonian, has accepted a position as advertising solicitor and collector for the Daily Republican, and will enter upon his new duties about the middle of this week.

CLERGYMEN WILL QUIT RIDING ON CHILD'S FARE

Beginning with January 1st, clergymen who have been traveling on half rates on all western roads will be compelled to pay full fare. It is stated that not a single clergyman's certificate will be issued by any railroad between Chicago and the Rocky mountains. This fact has been made certain by the action of the general conference of all the clergy bureaus when it was decided to discontinue the privilege in all associations with the exception of the Transcontinental Pastors' Association.

GROUNDHOGS IN THE CEMETERIES

One Burial Ground Near Rushville Suffers by Their Visits

HARD TO GET RID OF THEM

Human Bones, and Hinges From off the Caskets, are Brought to the Surface

The destructive tendencies of the groundhog are well known to farmers and many assert each year the damage done by this beast of the ground equals the losses ascribed to unfavorable weather. The groundhog is fond of meat and to this carnivorous habit the loss of many bodies of dead people is ascribed.

The country grave yards, the family cemeteries, where the grass and underbrush grow at will over the graves of the departed, afford havens for the ravenous beast. The seclusion found in a patch of briars induces the little ground digger to hide the entrance to his ground cavern. Winding about among the roots and stones the groundhog locates the grave where lies the last of mortal man. The sharp teeth and claws make access to the unprotected box and casket an easy matter and for months the little animal lives in luxury off the flesh of some dead person.

In one cemetery to the east of this city where bodies are interred possibly once in two or three years the practices of this little beast seem most noticeable. Bones of the dead are found on the ground and often the hinges and plates on the casket add to the ghastliness of the scene. All means of extermination have proven impracticable. The cemetery is located on a hill side close to the river and affords a paradise for the destructive creature.

Many of the bodies interred in recent years are in concrete and burglar proof vaults and these have proven the only barrier known to prevent the groundhog from digging the remains away.

WHEN RUSHVILLE GROWS TO MEET CONNERSVILLE

The Public Square Will be Located in the Town of Glenwood

Oliver Nash, formerly of this county, but now of Rushville was in the city Saturday, says the Connorsville News, accompanied by his guest, S. W. Hall, of Geneva, Adams county. Both are trustees of the Epileptic village, near New Castle. They say that with the present appropriation they hope to be able to provide for 150 patients within a short time and some patients are being cared for already. Though both are Democratic members of the board, they were piloted about the city by "Dick" Elliott, who takes a deep interest in State institutions for the unfortunate and afflicted, and who formed Mr. Hall's acquaintance while in the Legislature. Mr. Nash said he couldn't show his friend all of Rushville without showing him Connorsville, as the two towns will soon grow until they meet each other with Glenwood as the meeting point.

By the Wayside

"No news in the paper today," is an oft-heard exclamation. After picking up the paper and glancing at the headlines it is thrown down with the contemptuous remark, "Nothing in it."

A thought is not given to the reporter who has tramped the streets from an early till a late hour—gleaning in the sense that Ruth, the footsore Hebrew maiden, followed in her sorrowful work in the fields of Boaz. If there is nothing in the paper today, that should mean to you that a day has just passed in which no misfortune has befallen anyone in our city, that no destructive fire has wiped out a neighbor's worldly goods—that the grim angel of death has crossed no threshold of a friend—that no man driven by liquor, hatred or fear, has taken the life of a fellowman—that no poor devil haunted by the deeds of the past or the misfortunes of some other, has crossed the great divide by his own hand.

When you next pick up a paper that does not announce a tragedy, give a word of thanks, however humble you pray, instead of granting at the lack of news in the paper.

If dire events happen they will be reported, and oftentimes the reporter's hand grows numb at the necessity of recital of details that chill his heart. Death, life, crime and misery, go hand in hand, and the reporter sees more phases of human life than are agreeable to him—though his weary grind goes on, and he must fill up the paper.

STRENUOUS DAYS AHEAD

The Vice President Has a Full Program for the Next Two Weeks.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—The next two weeks will be strenuous ones for Vice President Fairbanks. Speeches that he is to deliver will make it necessary for him to cover several thousand miles. On next Friday he will be in Sioux City, Ia., to deliver two addresses, one before the Commercial Club and the other before the students and faculty of Morningside College. The next day he will be in Vermillion, S. D., addressing the State Methodist conference. From Vermillion he will go to Dallas, Tex., to attend the Texas State Fair and to make a speech. From Dallas he will hurry to catch a train for Middleboro, Ky., where a special train will be waiting to whirl him over the state for two days, during which time he will make scores of political speeches in the interest of the Republican state ticket. He expects to return home Oct. 27. George B. Lockwood, his private secretary, will accompany him on his tour of Kentucky.

The followers of Congressman Watson and Lieutenant Governor Miller are entering a vigorous protest to efforts of the followers of Charles W. Miller to convince the party that the northern part of the state is entitled to the nomination for governor. The former declare that every nominee of the Republican party for governor except the late Governor Alvin P. Hovey of Mt. Vernon, divides the state into a north and south half. Henry Lane, the nominee in 1860, lived at Crawfordsville. Oliver P. Morton, the nominee in 1864, lived at Centerville, north of the national road. In 1868, Conrad Baker, the nominee, resided in Indianapolis. In 1872, Thomas Brown, residing at Winchester, headed the ticket. Godlove S. Orth, who was nominated in 1876, and taken off the ticket before the election, lived at Lafayette. Benjamin Harrison, who took his place, lived in Indianapolis. A. C. Porter, the nominee in 1880, lived in Indianapolis. W. H. Calkins, the head of the ticket in 1884, resided at Goshen. Alvin P. Hovey, the nominee in 1888, lived at Mt. Vernon. Ira J. Chase, the candidate in 1892, resided at Danville. The Columbus Miller and Watson men insist that in view of the record the southern part of the state has more right than the northern to claim the right to nominate the candidate for governor.

As a mascot for his race for the nomination for governor, Charles W. Miller has the record of his office at Goshen. The success of the members of the firm he has been connected with there has not been surpassed in the history of the state. It has had something politically almost from the time it was formed. The late William A. Woods, one of its first members, was elected judge of the supreme court on the Republican ticket. He was afterward appointed judge of the federal court for the district of Indiana and subsequently judge of the United States circuit court of appeals. He died while a member of the last named court. James S. Mitchell, another member of the old firm, was elected judge of the supreme court of Indiana. Judge John H. Baker served six years in congress before he was appointed to the federal court of this district about twenty-five years ago. He retired from active service about four years ago on full pay. He is associated incidentally with the firm now, although he is not in active practice. His son, Judge Frank Baker, was a partner of Millers, was elected judge of the supreme court and appointed judge of the United States circuit court of appeals, where he is now serving. Miller himself was as fortunate as his associates in the office in winning as he was elected attorney general, serving four years in that office before he became a candidate for governor.

Congressman James E. Watson, the Sixth district candidate for governor, is said to be willing that the nomination shall be made by direct primary by which every member of the party may have a chance of expressing his personal choice for the office. It is not likely that any arrangement can be made for a direct primary next year, as the law enacted by the last legislature provided only for direct nominations in Marion and Vanderburgh counties, in which Indianapolis and Evansville are located. Although he was not a candidate for governor during the last session of the legislature, Congressman Watson wrote to many of the Republican members urging them to stand for the enactment of a law that would provide for a direct vote for the selection of candidates for offices. He stated his position openly in a letter to one of the newspapers here. He believes in the system of direct nominations and is willing, it is declared, to go before the people now so that they may determine who shall head the Republican ticket. Under the present arrangement the candidates themselves would have to bear the burden of a primary election.

CUT OUT PRAYER

Caucus of Filipino Legislators

Decide Against Opening
Invocation.

DEFEATED BY ONE VOTE

On the Ground That Church and State Should Not Mingle Prayer
In Assembly Will Be Omitted.

Great Interest Shown In Manila In the Inauguration of Philippine Home Rule.

Manila, Oct. 14.—Great interest is shown in the opening of the first Philippine assembly, which will take place this week, and the arrival of Secretary Taft, which comes at an opportune time in the inauguration of Philippine home rule. Already the contending political factions are showing great activity, and at the caucus recently held the first brush occurred over a motion to have the assembly proceedings opened with prayer. This was defeated by one vote, on the broad ground that affairs of church and state should be kept distinct. The caucus was attended by forty-eight delegates.

The action of the assembly on questions relating to the political future of the Philippines is expected to be determined largely by the opinion expressed by Secretary Taft in his address opening the session. This is the view held by Filipinos as well as Americans. The latter are generally in favor of a specific pronouncement on Philippine policy.

The course of legislative action will depend mainly on the result of the fight of the Gomez Radicals for control of the National party. The Nationalists, when united, exercise controlling influence, but their internal divisions given the Progressive Independents the balance of power. It is not likely that party spirit will play much part in the assembly's affairs, owing to personal differences within the parties.

Guerra, one of the native leaders of Manila, backs Gomez in his promise to secure the repeal of the drastic "flag sedition" laws. If this repeal is carried through other radical measures probably will follow. The conservative element declares against any extreme legislation, and the better class of politicians favor an ultra-conservative course.

The governor general and the officials of the Philippine commission expect that the chief activities of the assembly will be devoted to the enactment of legislation for the general improvement of the islands.

The indications are that Manuel Quezon will be the successful candidate for speaker. He is believed to be favorably regarded at Washington and his election gives assurance that no resolution for the independence of the Philippines will be considered. Quezon is one of the two delegates from Tayabas. He is a lawyer, and in the last insurrection was a major in the Filipino army.

THE LAST WAR DANCE

Old Indian Rite Will Cease With a Message of Peace.

Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 14.—Geronimo, the famous Apache, a prisoner of war, accompanied by his eighth wife and his daughter, passed through Tulsa en route to Collinsville, where he is to be the guest of honor at the last Indian war dance and pow-wow. The old warrior looked tired and worn, but through his interpreter said it was trouble on his mind that made him appear weary. Discussing the subject of his visit and the probable effect it might have, Geronimo said:

"The celebration at Collinsville is a religious rite and not a bloodthirsty affair. I will discuss matter of vital concern affecting the fullbloods in the new state and their spiritual welfare. The spirit father in the clouds has sent a message to all Indians and I will deliver it to them while the dance goes on. I have made peace with my master and my theme is to lead my people safely across the broad field of peace to eternal happiness. I am no longer an old Apache warrior who killed and scalped white men merely for pleasure, but am an old man, full of sorrow and regrets."

NEW HUNTING GROUND

The President Encouraged by Obvious
Signs of Big Game.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 14.—The whole countryside turned out Sunday in expectation of seeing the president take his departure from Stamboul for the south, but in view of his change of plans was, of course, disappointed. There were general expressions of satisfaction, however, over his reconsideration of his determination to move to Tensas parish, for, now that the change is not to be made, Stamboul confesses candidly that she would have been much chagrined to have her distinguished visitor go away with an empty bag before the time originally fixed.

General confidence in his success in the new camp on Bear lake continues buoyant, and the reports from there are uniformly favorable. Indeed, it is stated that a number of fresh trails were discovered and that on one occasion the party came upon a good-sized bear, but that on account of the absence of dogs he made his escape. The hope is very strong that when the hunt is resumed today either this animal or another member of his family will soon be run to earth. Many of the dogs used in last week's strenuous search of the barren up-country are reported to be badly lamed and that an effort is being made to replace them with fresh animals.

It is not believed by the president's associates that he will now make any change, but he has made no plans. All will depend upon the developments early in the week. There is no doubt of the presence of the game now, but it is very shy and may disappear in the presence of the hunters, as it did from the Monticello camp.

SEEKING RELEASE

Indicted Insurance Officials Don't Want to Go to Trial.

New York, Oct. 14.—Keen interest centers in the efforts which will be made this week to induce the courts to dismiss the indictments found against several officials and former officials of insurance companies. Of these insurance cases, those against John R. Hegeman, president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, who is charged with perjury and forgery; and Robert A. Granville, vice president of the Mutual Life, who is accused of forgery, are being argued today. Similar arguments will be made on Wednesday in the cases against George W. Perkins and Charles S. Fairchild, both of whom are charged with forgery. The trial of Walter R. Gillette, former vice president of the Mutual, is fixed for Thursday.

ON ITS SECOND TRIP

One Steamer Went Down and but One
Lived to Tell Tale.

Grand Marais, Mich., Oct. 14.—Twenty-four men—officers and seamen—were drowned when the new ore steamer Cypriss, owned by the Lackawanna Transportation company, foundered in Lake Superior near Deer Park, on its second trip.

Only one man, C. J. Pitt, second mate of the vessel, survives to tell the story of the disaster, and his condition is so critical that his recovery is doubtful. Pitt, lashed to a life raft and barely alive, was washed ashore near Deer Park, and was able to give only a meager account of the sinking of the vessel before he lapsed into unconsciousness. The pay-roll of the Cypriss was lost with the ship and a complete list of the victims is therefore not obtainable.

Fatal Auto Accident.

Morenci, Mich., Oct. 14.—Arthur Onweller, a merchant of Lyons, O., was killed in an automobile accident Sunday afternoon, five miles east of this city. Mr. Onweller had purchased a new automobile and was taking his first ride in it. His wife and two children were in the machine with him. While driving at fair speed he lost control of the machine in some way and it ran into a deep ditch, turning turtle and crushing him to death beneath it. Mrs. Onweller and one of the children, a boy, were seriously hurt.

OUT OF FUNDS

General Assembly of Operators Can No Longer Help Locals.

New York, Oct. 14.—The New York local of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, at a meeting Sunday, voted unanimously to continue the strike against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

The vote was taken upon the suggestion of President Small, who in messages to subordinate officers, pointed out the inability of the general assembly to further finance the strike, and recommended that locals in the various cities vote upon the advisability of the men returning to work.

Small Repudiated.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—National President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union, and his suggestion that a vote be taken on the question of calling off the strike were repudiated by members of the Chicago local union at a meeting Sunday afternoon. A resolution that the strike be continued was unanimously adopted.

The following message was sent to President Small by the executive committee: "Under Article 15, Section 7 of the constitution of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, you are hereby suspended from the office of president, to take effect immediately."

Action at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Oct. 14.—The striking telegraphers held a meeting Sunday at which it was voted to continue the strike nine weeks more, if necessary. President Small of the union was sent notice to this effect.

NEW PHASE OF IT

Illinois Law May Be Invoked in Fish-Harriman Fight.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—It is possible that the struggle for the control of the Illinois Central railroad between Stayesant Fish and E. H. Harriman may be taken into the courts.

Today the attorneys of Mr. Fish were engaged in the preparation of a petition asking the courts to enjoin any stock in the annual meeting to be held Wednesday next, which may be shown to be owned or controlled by the Union Pacific railroad. The action, it is said, will be brought under an Illinois statute which prohibits one corporation from owning stock in another. The attorneys for Mr. Harriman have already declared, in view of possible proceedings along this line, that the Illinois Central, by reason of its special charter, would be exempt from the operation of the law, even if it were not a fact that railroad corporations are by implication exempt from its operation. It is understood that it is the intention of Mr. Fish to obtain a temporary injunction by which the annual meeting will be delayed until the court can pass upon the important question involved in the present dispute.

Receipts of Pennant Series.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—That the American people are willing to pay for athletic sports is shown by a summary of the receipts for the championship games which resulted in bestowing the pennant upon the Chicago "Cubs," whose victory over the Detroit team in four straight games was duly celebrated by Chicago "fans" Saturday night. The total paid attendance at the five games, one of which was a tie, was 78,068; gross receipts, $101,728.50. Of this sum the players take $54,933.39, the owners $36,622.26, while $10,172.85 goes to the National Baseball commission.

Further Indictments.

San Francisco, Oct. 14.—The federal grand jury has reported to United States District Judge De Haven three indictments against the Southern Pacific company and two against the Pacific mail Steamship company for carrying freight for less than the legal rate between Kobe, Japan, and various cities in the United States. The indictments are supplemental to those filed last week.

Children Furnished the Funds.

Paris, Oct. 14.—The bronze statue of General Lafayette designed by Paul Bartlett, the American sculptor, will be unveiled in the square of the Louvre, Paris, on Oct. 19, the anniversary of the collection of the contributions of the American school children, who furnished the funds for the statue.

John Mitchell in Hospital.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, entered the hospital at LaSalle, Ill., Saturday, and it is understood that he will submit to an operation for appendicitis in the course of a couple of days, when his condition becomes more favorable.

Hot Campaign Is On.

London, Oct. 14.—The Liberal campaign for the restriction of the power of the house of lords to alter or reject bills passed by the house of commons, which was inaugurated by the premier, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, at Edinburgh, is now in full swing throughout the country.

Wall Street Demoralized.

New York, Oct. 14.—Events in last week's stock market ran into demoralization by the end of the week, as a culmination of growing uneasiness over the unexplained liquidation and the fears of coming business depression and reaction as an outcome of the money stringency.

Wheat prices in the Chicago market slumped 2 cents from the high point of the day because of heavy realizing sales. The greater part of the loss was regained on covering by shorts.

Wallace Monument Commission Inspecting Sites in Statuary Hall.

SCULPTORS ARE EAGER

Lively Competition Among the Craftsmen of This Class For Honor of Designing the Model.

Senator Moore, Author of the Monument Bill, Accompanies Commission to Washington.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The Indiana commission on the Lew Wallace statue, authorized at the last session of the state legislature, is in Washington looking over the ground with a view of arranging for a place to this companion piece to the Oliver P. Morton statue in National-Statuary hall in the United States capitol. The members of the commission are William Henry Fox and William Allen Wood of Indianapolis, and Captain J. P. McGrew of Lafayette, the officer in command of the capitol police.

State Senator Moore of Greencastle is here, prompted by his personal interest in the matter and the fact that he was the author of the bill providing for the Wallace memorial, and worked diligently in two sessions of the legislature to secure its passage.

The commission and Senator Moore, accompanied by Captain McGrew, visited Statuary hall and the Corcoran art gallery and inspected the various equestrian statues in Washington. No decision has yet been reached, but the commission was very favorably impressed with the new equestrian statue of General George B. McClellan, which was the work of MacMonnies. The commission has not yet organized, but will do so later.

There is lively competition among sculptors for the work of modeling the Wallace statue. It was learned that Mrs. Lew Wallace had requested Governor Hanly to appoint Senator Moore on the monument commission in recognition of his work in the legislature to secure the passage of the bill authorizing the erection of the Wallace statue, but for some reason the claims of Senator Moore were passed over, much to the disappointment of himself and his friends.

"BAD" MEN FIGHT PORTER

Suspected as Bandits, They Leap from Car, but Are Captured.

North Vernon, Ind., Oct. 14.—Ralph Day and Dave Shoaf of this city were taken off a Big Four passenger train and locked up until an alleged attempt to hold up the parlor car can be investigated.

The two men left this city for Greensburg in the morning and boarded the train for home in the evening. When near Letts Corner they left the smoker and walked back into the combination parlor and sleeper. They were halted by the colored porter at the door, and then one of the men stabbed him in the back, making a wound about eight inches long, while the other man drew a revolver.

Just at this time the conductor and brakeman appeared and then the man with the revolver dropped it. The train crew forced the two men back into the smoker, but at Westport they made their escape. The train crew obtained revolvers and after a chase of nearly a mile succeeded in capturing them. They were put into the baggage car and the officers here notified. As soon as the train arrived they were taken to jail.

Both men were drinking and were in a bad humor. The passenger on the train were of the opinion that a holdup had been planned.

She Made No Complaint.

Fairmount, Ind., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Jos. Johnson, living six miles southeast of this city, enjoyed the visit of chicken thieves to her home, as she believes that she is decidedly ahead of the game. During the night thieves visited the farm and stole every chicken. In looking around for clues Mrs. Johnson discovered a pocketbook near the door of one of the coops which contained $100 in money. The most that she could have received for the stolen chickens would have been $50. As no one called for the purse Mrs. Johnson deposited the entire amount to her credit in the bank. No complaint was made to officers by her.

Wanted to Plead Guilty.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 14.—James Whittinger, the confessed slayer of Clarence Sumnerfield, one of his closest friends, sent for Prosecuting Attorney Flanagan and informed him that he desired to go into the circuit court immediately and plead guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree. He was much disappointed when he learned that he could not plead guilty to such a charge except before a jury and have it fix his fate.
